BOND FRAUD RISKS RISING

Credit unions are seeing an increase in fraud involving savings bonds, creating a heightened level of risk when accepting these transactions. Unlike checks, fraudulent savings bond claims can be returned by the U.S. Treasury for up to one year, meaning potential losses may not surface until long after the transaction is completed.

Given this extended risk window, we are recommending credit unions evaluate current processes and assess their exposure. As a proactive step, credit unions may consider encouraging members to redeem savings bonds directly through TreasuryDirect. Taking this approach can help reduce fraud risk and protect against unexpected losses.

REACH BUSINESS LENDERS UPDATE

Reach Business Lenders (RBL) continues to provide commercial loan participation opportunities to credit unions across Wisconsin. The 45 participating credit unions range in size from $25 million to over $3 billion, with funded loans spanning from $150,000 to more than $18 million. These opportunities allow credit unions to put excess liquidity to work while growing their loan portfolios.

RBL experienced a net loss in 2025. While many loan opportunities were presented, only a limited number received sufficient participation to move forward to closing. For more information or questions regarding RBL's financials, please contact Beth Ellis at the League.
